

Old Local News

2007/11/03

Today at work people kept wandering over toward me to congratulate me. I found this rather confusing as I could not think of anything that I had done or that had happened to me that might cause this.

It turns out that today's Racine Journal Times ran a press release that I sent them in August regarding my team's victory at the Roaster's Guild Retreat.